SmartSearch Improves Spotlight UI and UX

OCEANSIDE, CA January 25, 2017 – Advanced Personnel Systems, Inc. (APS), the makers of SmartSearch®, announces enhancements to its popular Spotlight summary feature. SmartSearch now offers clients newly improved, highly functional views with Spotlight Data Cards that can be individually added, removed, resized, rearranged, and color coded depending on user preferences.

SmartSearch users can easily personalize a Spotlight Data Card by clicking the “Configure” icon. This function allows users to select and set preferred Spotlight Data Card views for candidate, hiring manager, business/department and job records. This includes the ability to display desired information for “at a glance” access to all important data for that record on one screen.

“The new Spotlight layout and functionality of the Spotlight Data Cards is a major enhancement to the SmartSearch product and is the only place the end-user needs to go. The Spotlight Data Cards will reduce time and create better efficiencies for our clients. The configurability is personalized to each user’s preferences, offering the flexibility of a customized experience with more control over what they see and in a way the end-user wants to view it,” states Doug Coull, Chief Executive Officer, APS, Inc.

Users can easily add and remove Data Cards with one click, select a color, and resize or rearrange with a simple drag-and-drop. System Administrators may also set a baseline configuration based on individual user roles and company best practices. The new Spotlight Data Cards also feature a number of convenient short cuts:

- Zoom to show more data – Users can click the card title to view a pop-up box which highlights the card’s data.
- Visit a link – Some cards include links to other associated information, such as candidate records. Users can click the link to leave the spotlight and go directly to the desired target data.
- Open the card data source – Users can click on a card to leave the Spotlight and open a report, another record or another screen.

“The goal of the Spotlight Data Cards is to keep the information that’s most important to the user front and center,” states Mike Estrada, Chief Financial Officer, APS, Inc.

With inspiration drawn from SmartSearch clients, the Spotlight Data Cards were designed to help SmartSearch clients compete and succeed with more ease within their competitive business markets.
